

A student may owe a repayment of federal financial aid, if they withdraw or stop attending classes during the term. The federal government provides a formula the school must use to calculate the amount, if any, the student must repay. This calculation is called the "Return of Title IV Funds".

The Return of Title IV funds calculation applies if the student does not attend through the 60% point in a term. The chart below provides the dates that trigger the calculation and repayment.