BOARD POLICY

Policy Number: 365

Subject: Community Schools and Clinics

Date Adopted: 05/09 Revised: 08/10, 12/12, 05/14

The Board of Trustees recognizes the benefits to the university and its communities of community schools, established to provide instruction in a discipline or area of practice to members of the community. Similarly, clinics established and operated by the university provide essential services to the university's communities. Such schools and clinics serve to advance knowledge of the discipline or area of practice, to provide settings for practicum experiences for the university's students, to forge beneficial connections between the campus and its communities, and to promote good will for the university among its community constituents. Such schools and clinics do not award academic credit in any form.

Approved community schools and clinics may establish appropriate fees, including application/registration fees and fees for instruction. Such fees and their revision must be approved by the provost and the vice president for finance and administration. Approved fees will be published on the community school's or clinic's web page and in any other appropriate publications.

Any proposed new community school or clinic must receive approval from the Board of Trustees
